

After the European elections...

Fighting the rise of the far right

Stand Up To Racism
PUBLIC FORUM

Mobilising against Trump's state visit

Saturday
1 June, 2pm

Hamilton House,
Mabledon Place,
London WC1H 9BD

Grace Blakeley
journalist and economist

Alfio Bernabei
Italian anti-fascist

David Rosenberg
author and activist

Kevin Courtney
National Education Union
joint general secretary

Nahella Ashraf
anti-racist campaigner
against Tommy Robinson
in the North West

Laura Ribera and David Karvala
Unitat contra el
racisme i el feixisme
(from Spain)

STAND UP TO RACISM FORUM

In the European elections this May the far right is expected to make major breakthroughs.

We are seeing the biggest surge of support for the racist and fascist right since the 1930s.

In Britain politics is currently dominated by the Brexit debate.

Figures like fascist Tommy Robinson and far right UKIP have attempted to exploit the government's Brexit crisis to gain support.

Donald Trump, who arrives in Britain on 3 June, has been an inspiration to the racist right globally.

His former chief-of-staff Steve Bannon has been at the heart off attempts to build an international far right movement.

Come and join the debate about how we can stop the growth of the far right – and how we can organise the biggest possible “unwelcome” for the world’s No.1 racist, Donald Trump.

Please register for the event in advance with Eventbrite at: bit.ly/SUTR19xf

For updates see the facebook event page: bit.ly/SUTR19xa

Get in touch:  @StandUTR  @AntiRacismDay  standuptoracism.org.uk

