Few take the perilous and dangerous journey to reach Europe lured by the promise of democracy, rule of law and respect for Human Rights. They are let down badly.

Thousands die attempting to cross the sea to safety in small unseaworthy boats. The British government is attempting to dismantle the right to asylum with the new Nationality and Borders Bill. Home Office Minister Priti Patel talks of forcibly pushing back boats with refugees over the English Channel.

We need to tell the government: #RefugeesWelcome!
